- Notice of New Courses from G. Tarzwell, Associate VP, TRU-OL

President's Message: Greetings Good People

I hope most of our members are starting to emerge from Winter and are considering tackling the garden or yard work. The fresh air will do wonders for the mind!!! Spring has sprung go out and enjoy it!

During January to March the Collective Agreement was ratified and approved by the TRU Board of Directors. It is being collated by HR into one cohesive document that we will review as soon as it is delivered. The new name will be imbedded into the contract as the LRB will process the name change in April to Thompson Rivers University Open Learning Faculty (TRUOLFA).

A major reconciliation of the Remuneration Fund for the past 4 years was completed and agreed to. This fund is an annual allowance for bargaining and grievance time. We overspent the allowance due in part to one year of heavy grievance activity and the bargaining year. On average over the 4 years we paid out of your dues a total of $12,000 annually. Looking ahead we anticipate a major block of time will be required for the Arbitration over payment for the Online Modality courses.

You may have noticed that more courses are being developed for the new modality. The long term goal (5 years or so) is to have 1/3 of the courses delivered online according to Gordon Tarswell. This is very important as we do not have any rights to deliver these courses. Our rights extend only to Independent Study (Print and Web). I want to encourage you to be qualified to apply to teach the new Online courses by attending the "ONLINE FACILITATION COURSE" contact Colin Madland (6810).

The new collective agreement does include six senior faculty members appointed by Management. Ron Lakes is holding one of those positions and we are pressing Management to appoint the remaining five.

The annual workshop has been postponed; however Management is being encouraged to schedule a workshop in the Fall.

The Executives have recognized that the honorarium paid to the President needs to be reviewed. A committee of Richard Duguay, June Williams and Tom Friedman (past president of TRUFA) are conducting a review of all Executive positions. A recommendation is expected at the AGM tentatively set in October at FPSE's office in Vancouver.

I know you are very busy folks so I will respect your time by keeping this note short! Please keep in touch!!!

Notes from Senate meeting – February 28, 2011

By Derek Knox and Rocky Mirza (two of the four OL senators)

- New Director of International Academic Development – Lian Dumouchel – to try to connect various aspects of TRU together to promote international education and international linkages. Position is for 3 years. Rocky asked how this fits into OL, but she just said everyone would be included.
- New law school will be starting soon. Just waiting for final approval.
- Academic Planning Steering Committee – have a website http://www.tru.ca/vpacademic/academic_plan.html where all can see what is happening and add input to the process to develop the plan. An amendment was passed to the motion re the academic plan to include an OL faculty member on the committee.
- Motions were passed on Entrance Scholarships and Academic Achievement Awards.

- Discussion re student academic appeals policy – no motion was made, and the document sent back for review to reduce any ambiguities.
- Educational Programs Committee put forward a motion for a series of courses in the Faculty of Law. Motion passed.
- A new Bachelor of Science , major in economics and mathematics was approved
- New graduate program assessment criteria notice of motion was presented, as revised to include OL faculty as part of the process.

The Senate Steering Committee regularly puts out notices asking for volunteers to sit on Senate sub-committees. These notices are forwarded to you by e-mail from Sarah Langlois. We would like to encourage all of our members to look out for such notices and apply for these positions. The positions pay for time spent at meetings and for a maximum of 1.5 hours of preparation time. This would be a great way for our members to get more involved and add more of an OL voice on these committees.

At a recent meeting of Senate a “new Graduate Program Assessment Criteria,” was addressed. This new criteria includes opportunities for including OLFM’s. This is one of several examples where your senate representatives have been able to get more representation for OLFM’s in the governance of TRU. Your senate reps have been asking for OLFM’s representation at both the departmental and faculty council levels of TRU’s governance structure.

FPSE Spring Conference and meeting reports:

Overview of FPSE Professional and Scholarly Development Committee

Prepared by: S. Earle, Feb. 26, 2011

The meeting was dominated by reports from locals and the discussion on the various types and levels of PD funding available at the difference institutions. One of the issues discussed was the degree to which non-regular faculty are able to access PD at different institutions. Evidently there is a wide range of policies, and in several cases no PD funding is available to non-regulars. The committee agreed that PD funding should be extended to non-regulars at all institutions (at least on a pro rata basis), and that this should be a bargaining issue.

There was a suggestion that, instead of writing reports for every PSD Committee meeting, representatives should create a summary, using the headings on the PSD comparison chart, but with more detail. Once this is done the meeting reports need only include a description of changes to the institutions policies and procedures.

There was discussion of perceptions of changes on the use of PD funding. Representatives from a few institutions sensed that PD recipients are being asked to be more accountable for what they did with their PD funding, and how it benefitted the institution. There was also a suggestion that some institutions are trying to steer the use of PD funds towards research, as opposed to travel, conference attendance, degree completion, books etc. There is evidence at some institutions of decreasing support for the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning (and for funding of teaching and learning centres) as opposed to more traditional research. Some institutions are seeing a push towards rank and title, and see this as a move to increase expectations for research activity.

There was a brief presentation (S. Earle, Locals 8 and 17) on the 2010 PSD Scholarly Activity survey. (In the spring of 2010 approximately 350 faculty from FPSE institutions completed an on-line survey with a variety of questions on the types of scholarly activity that they are engaged in, including questions around sources of funding, time release, time spent, publication and applicability to teaching.) It was decided to seek permission for the PSD Committee to organize a session at the upcoming AGM in Prince Rupert (May 2011) at which these results would be described and discussed.

FPSE STATUS OF WOMEN COMMITTEE MEETINGS, FEBRUARY 25, 2011

Prepared by Laurain Mills

The Status of Women committee met from 1 – 5:15 on the Friday afternoon. Each member gave a report of events on their college campus, events ranged from showing the film Politechnique on Dec 6, 2010 to having discussions about International Women's Day, 2011. There was discussion around how to best celebrate it, the apathy concerning women's issues on campuses, and the need for women's activities to be recognized.

- there was discussion of who would be selected to go to the FPSE 2011 AGM convention in Prince Rupert and what contribution could be made to a theme speaker. An aboriginal speaker on the challenges of education was recommended but a decision was not made. Women were to be selected from a vote by the Status of Women committee members after seeing reasons for wanting to go.

- it was proposed that 8 women's names be submitted to the FPSE for funding for the Summer institute for Union Women in Victoria, 2011, names were to be selected by status of women committee members on the same basis as those selected for the FPSE 2011 AGM.

FPSE Annual Spring Conference, Feb 26, 2011

By Laurain Mills

This was a day-long conference with keynote speakers in the morning and workshops scheduled in the afternoon. The first key note speaker was the president of CAUT, Penni Stewart, who provided an update on current policies of the CAUT, including the decision to amalgamate women's committees into a general antidiscrimination committee. The second speaker, Marcy Cohe, reviewed the Canadian women's trip to Ottawa in favor of abortion. There was little discussion on this, although the speaker was very enthusiastic. An unsavory topic with many views, not the best choice in my opinion for a key note speech.

The workshops in the afternoon were well attended. The first I attended was anti-discrimination response training presented by Gail Morong of TRU university, very practical and informative. The second workshop reviewed provisions for students who become involved in BC Federation of labor information. It also was well attended, less hands on learning than the first workshop.

Report from the Human Rights & International Solidarity Committee of FPSE

Prepared by Be Harris

A faculty member at one institution being “eased off campus” presumably because of his research on Assisted Suicide.

At another institution a nursing program in Honduras is canceled, likely due to (Canadian) mining issues there.

Concern about surveillance cameras (a privacy issue) installed ...in the classroom?

Some colleges are trying to arrange a speaking tour October 11-15 for the Cuban Consul to discuss the “Cuban 5” who have been convicted in Miami of various charges such as being unregistered agents of the Republic of Cuba, fraud, etc.

FPSE Spring conference, February 26, 2011 at the Hyatt:

By Be Harris

A “relaxing day”—an opportunity to learn, as well as enjoy the company of colleagues from our and other FPSE institutions.

There were several workshops of which we could select two. In order to have varied reporting, I chose one not being attended by another of our members. AND I found it VERY interesting! ‘Looking at Leadership’, presented by Lesley Burke-O’Flynn was a fascinating insight into aspects and techniques of leadership (and mention that leadership improves with practice). Delightful were the several Film Clips: excerpts were from Erin Brockovich, Bend it like Beckham, Dead poet’s Society, The Contender, What about Bob and finally, Gandhi. Although I doubt that I am a better leader, I certainly am more aware of leadership.
